Besides helping you find people and opportunities through your network, LinkedIn makes it easy for opportunities to find you. In deciding how other LinkedIn users may contact you, take care not to exclude contacts inadvertently that you might find professionally valuable.

Receiving Opportunities

How can other LinkedIn users contact you with business or career opportunities?

- I'll accept Introductions, InMail and OpenLink messages I'm joining The OpenLink Network
- I'll accept Introductions and InMail
- I'll accept only Introductions

How would you like to be notified about new InMail and OpenLink messages?

- Notify me via email immediately.
- Notify me via email no more than twice a week.
- Do not notify me via email. I'll check my LinkedIn Inbox instead.

Opportunity Preferences

What kinds of opportunities would you like to receive?

- Career opportunities
- Consulting offers
- New ventures
- Job inquiries
- Expertise requests
- Business deals
- Personal reference requests
- Requests to reconnect

Do you prefer opportunities in particular locations?

- Via phone or email only
- In Greater Chicago Area, or via phone or email
- In any geographic area, or via phone or email

What advice would you give to users considering contacting you?

Include comments on your availability, types of projects or opportunities that interest you, and what information you'd like see included in a request. To avoid unwanted contacts, do not include contact information, since your response will be visible to your entire network. See examples.
